PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Features

The unique dual density posture support system is recognised by ergonomic consultants, occupational health and medical professionals as providing the best solution for improved posture support and comfort. Gregory office chairs have a well deserved reputation for excellence in design, comfort, longevity and adjustability. Back Centre finds that Gregory chairs are frequently prescribed by occupational therapists and physiotherapists working in the field of workplace injury prevention and management.

- Free Float adjustment mechanism with three levers for independent adjustment of seat height, seat angle and back tilt
- Seat base can be tilted forward beyond horizontal and features a waterfall front edge to maximise blood circulation in the thighs and legs
  - Adjustable backrest tilt (forward/back) provides permanent contact support to your back
- Lumbar support height on the backrest has 6 positions (over 80mm) and is easily adjusted via an in-built ratchet mechanism
- All adjustments are easily done while seated in a straight position and eliminate any twisting of the upper torso

The Inca range of office chairs is the most popular and best value of the prestigious Gregory chairs.

Starting at $558.00 (standard seat, medium back) they deliver high quality, long lasting office seating for only $1 per week, over the life of the chair.

Inca offer 'mixing and matching' of seat size (short, standard, large and extra large) with backrest size (medium, high and extra high).

Armrests are optional but as they are height adjustable knocking the desk or being unable to sit close to the desk is never a problem.

Other options which add to their ability to solve seating issues are a pump up lumbar support and heavy duty base (suited up to 160kg). A seat slide option (giving variable seat depth) is worth considering as it allows the chair to suit different height users; avoiding seating problems for a changing workforce or employees who share workstations.

Gregory's extra deep foam makes the seat much more comfortable than most other chairs. The seat has a distinctive 'split' across it; due to softer foam at the back. This softer foam gives better distribution of the higher pressure on this area. The softer foam also helps the user to feel secure and stable when the seat is tilted downward - whereas in some chairs this position feels like sitting on a slippery dip.

Add colour to your work life - Gregory chairs can be made to order in vibrant exciting colours. An office chair doesn't have to be a dull, safe colour. A bright colour can be inspiring, uplifting, eye catching and make a statement!
